TO HOLD TROOPS IN READINESS

Orders Given Gen. Hoyt to Meet Any Call Made by the Governor of Texas.

WILL PRESERVE NEUTRALITY

"Gen. Bernardo Reyes Is Coming," Is The Whisper Heard Up and Down the Rio Grande,

Washington, Nov. 21 .- Brig. Gen. Ralph W. Hoyt commander of the department of Texas has been instructed by the war department to hold troops in readiness to meet any call made by the governor of Texas to preserve neutrality on the part of the United States in connection with the revolt in Mexico.

DIAZ ABLE TO HANDLE REVOLUTIONARY OUTBREAK

Washington, Nov. 21.-Belated telegrams reaching the state department from the officials in Mexico mention various revolutionary disturbances at various revolutionary disturbances at different points in that country but all agree in one respect and that is that the Diaz government is strong enough to repress the revolutionists.

Ambassador Henry Lane Wilson telegraphed the department under Saturday's date that he had been informed by the Mexican government that there were revolutionary outbraks at Puebla.

The newspaper Paix had been publishing violent and incendiary articles, the ambassador sald, and it probably would be suppressed. American Consul Ellsworth at C. P.

Diuz crossed the Rio Grande to reach an American telegraph office and wired the department that there was con-siderable unrest along the border but the situation on the American side of the line was under control. Mr. Ellsworth is co-operating with the Mexican officials in the effort to discover and thwart the attempts of a military expedition organized on the Texas side of the line from crossing the border into Mexico. It is evident from activity of the American consuls near the Mexican border and other officials that the United States government is doing everything possible to prevent violations of the possible to prevent violations of the neutrality laws.

Primarily this duty devolves on the department of justice, which is acting through its marshals and sheriffs and secret service agencies. The United States district aftorneys are also charged to make every effort to discover and suppress any illegal expeditions forming in United States territory. The work of prevention is attended with difficulty for the reason that it is not always possible to interfere with the activity of the revolutionists before they have committed any overt acts. In the case of Francisco Madero, the alleged head of the present uprising, who is reported to cisco Medero, the alleged head of the present uprising, who is reported to have been buying horses in Texas and to have crossed the border line into Mexico, the officials are not clear that they have any legal right to arrest him before it has been established he has been guilty under the neutrality laws of organizing a military expedition.

NO CONFIRMATION OF PITCHED BATTLE

San Antonio, Texas, Nov. 21 .-- Advices from Eagle Pass today fall to confirm a widely circulated report that 400 persons were killed in a pitched battle at Zacatecas Mexico, Saturday

Zacatecas is nearer Mexico City than eagle Pass and has better telegraph facilities to Mexican capital. Reports from Mexico city state that no word of any disorder of Zacatecas has reached there.

WHISPER HEARD UP AND

DOWN THE RIO GRANDE Pass, Texas, Nov. 21.—"Gen. Bernardo Reyes is coming."
This is the whisper that has gone with telegraphic swiftness up and down the Rio Grande. If it is true, and many Mexicans assert that it is, it means that the revolutionists have at their head a man superior in military training any other man in Mexico, even excepting President Diaz himself.

Gen. Bernardo Reyes. once a business friend of President Diaz, is now said to be an exile from his country. He was sent a year ago to Paris France, on a "military mission." Since then no word has come from him until today when the cautious words were—sent from Matamoras to Las Vacas

A telegram says further that revolutionists are gathering in Chihuahua state, south of Maria and preparing to attack Chihuahua City. The region thereabouts is sparsely settled and unguarded and it would be an easy matter for rebels to gather unmolested.

ARMS AND AMMUNITION FOR THE REVOLUTIONISTS

Eagle Pass, Texas, Nov. 21.—Advices received here today state that an outbreak by revolutionists took place at Jermanez, about a hundred miles south last night. Four citizens and south last night. Four citizens and two policemen are reported injured. The demonstration was of short duration. The street was quickly filled with soldiers and the crowd dispersed, shouting "Down with Dlaz."

The town is now quiet.

DUMA PAYS RESPECT TO MEMORY OF TOLSTOI

Decision to Adjourn Only Reached After a Wrangle in Which Greek Church Was Mentioned.

St. Petersburg, Nov. 21.-The duma adjourned today's session out of respect for Count Leo Tolstol, who died at Astapova. The decision was reached only after a wrangle, the mempers of the extreme right contending that to honor the memory of Count Tolstoi would be to challenge the Greek Catholic church. It also was asserted that the duma was a state institution to which the count was especially oposed:

In proposing the adjournment, the president eulogized Tolstoi, whom he described as the "pride of Russia and the glory of mankind," adding:
"May the mereful God open to him the kingdom of heaven."

KILLED ONE BANDIT, PUT THE OTHER TO FLIGHT

San Francisco, Nov. 21,-With one well directed shot, August Warmbold, a saloonkeeper, frustrated an attempt to rob his place last night. He killed one bandit and caused another to make a hasty escape. Three customers who were in the saloon at the time were uninjured and the bartender, Fritz Schu-meurz, saved his life by taking refuge behind several beer kegs while the battle between his employer and the robbers was in progress.

The two men entered the saloon the two men entered the $1100n through a side door, each armed with a brace of pistols. As Warmbold backed into his office at the head of the bar, the robbers opened fire. Warmbold rushed out and shot dead the nearest bandit and the other promptly

Probably no other commonwealth ever confronted such difficulties as faced the constitutional convention when it convened. Unique despite repeated denial, was the race and language question. The 135,000 people of New Mexico who are of Spanish-American descent, demanded protection of their equality before the law, retenileges, suspicious on account of the federal enabling act, which demands that all the state officers and legislators must speak English. They insisted upon guarantees that were difficult to formulate without giving them a wide intent in other directions than intended This task was made no easier by the fact that one-half of the Republican majority was of Spanish-American descent while the Democratic minority had not one delegate of that race.

The convention also bore in mind the advice of President Taft to formulate a advice of President Tatt to formulate a safe and sane constitution, a constitution unlike that of Oklahoma, as well as the many restrictions and conditions imposed by the enabling act. It, too, had to take into consideration the insistent demands for progressive features, a demand of which the Democratic minority naturally made the most tic minority naturally made the mos

The convention was compelled to lis-ten to the plea of vested interests and capital that New Mexico needs rail-road capital for development and that nothing should be done to hamper fudevelopment.

STRIKE OF CONVENTION EMPLOYES AVERTED

Phoenix, Ariz., Nov. 21.—9 strike of the attaches of the constitutional convention was averted today when the report of the committee on printing and clerks, recommending the discharge of five committee clerks, was defeated by an overwhelming vote. It is understood that the attaches had agreed to quit in a body if the resolutions were adouted.

ly and threatened her life if she did not clope with him.

Mrs. De Vito submitted to arrest and was taken to jail. There she told a story of Brove's persistent endeavors to induce her to leave her husband and clope with him. She said that he had threatened to kill her children and burn their home unless she complied.

Brove lived in the vicinity of the De Vito home. When Mrs. De Vito saw him walk down the street today preparatory to boarding a car, she hastily nim wark down the street today preparatory to boarding a car, she hastly armed herself with her husband's revolver, left her home and boarded the car two blocks in advance of where Brove was waiting for it.

As the car stopped and Brove was about to enter it, Mrs. De Vito began firing at close range. She fired five shots in quick succession emptying the weapon. Every bullet took effect, one passing through Brove's head and another through his heart.

The police believe that the woman was driven frantic by fear because of the man's threats. Locked in a cell at the station, she raved as though insane.
